Amazing! No, Poetic License!

Jeffer's Sons Baffle School

Even in such things as high school graduates Carmel is different.

Out of the long list of Carmel students who last week graduated from the high school at Monterey two names were omitted—Garth and Donan Jeffers, twin sons of Robinson Jeffers, the poet. And yet they graduated with high honors!

It seems that Garth and Donan had been only in high school three years. Few students ever graduate in that short period, so instructors at the school did not take time off to count up the credits the two youths had earned.

But their mother, Una Jeffers, had kept an eagle eye on their studies. Their credits were tabulated at the high school and sure enough, they had enough on which to win their diplomas.

So when last week, the class of graduates received their certificates at the high school, Garth and Donan were present to get their own diplomas.

"Amazing," said the puzzled instructors at the high school, "simply amazing."

Sinister Horse Shoe Feud

May Reach Climax at Fair

By Robert Wells Ritchie
(Innocent Bystander)

Let us try to take calmly—as why not?—this report of the blood feud between John R. Gray, M. D., and George C. Romine, esq., both residents of this village, God-fearing men and horseshoe pitchers.

Both principals in this distressing affair might have continued enjoying, and even asserting in an unobtrusive way, the three attributes listed above, had it not been that pinochle came between them. I do not know as much about pinochle as, perhaps I should; but I am told that pinochle between friends can be as devastating as Athlete's Foot (Four out of five). Nevertheless,

One night recently at the Manzanita Club Mr. Romine did something to some kings—Is "meld" the word, or verb, I mean?—which caused Dr. Gray's hand to itch professionally for exploration of Mr. Romine's duodenum.

"You count yourself an expert pinochlist, eh?" flegged the surgeon. And when John R. Gray, M. D., feels in the mood for flegging, he really can fleg.

"As good, or better, a pinochlist, as or than, I am a horseshoe pitcherist," snarked George C. Romine. Need I add, parenthetically, that as a snarker, Mr. Romine knows no peer? I needn't, eh? Excuse it, please.

"If you think you're so good at twirling the horseshoe for a ringer—" began Dr. Gray.

"I know I'm good," Mr. Romine interrupted, forgetting his manners in the heat of the moment.

Dr. Gray took up the pencil and marked on the pinochle scoring pad—or on his cuff, if they don't use scoring pads in pinochle —the pregnant challenge: $300. Mr. Romine took the pencil from his erstwhile friend. He scratched out the figure "3" on the scoring pad, or cuff, and substituted a "4".

With the snarl of an anaesthetic engine, Dr. Gray retrieved the pencil and raised the amended figure to a triumphant "5".

Mr. George C. Romine nodded with the hauteur of a candy-puller.

So here comes the interesting part which, really, I've been leading up to all the time:

At Carmel's Monster Street Fair, July 1st these two implacable enemies will toss horseshoes in Champion Dave Nixon's horseshoe-flicking concession for a side-bet of just $500.

Is that hot-cha, or am I in error again?

PETE STEFFENS FALLS ON LAWN, HURTS SELF

Pete Steffens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Steffens was this week recovering from injuries received in a fall on the lawn of his home on San Antonio street.

Pete was apparently running across the lawn when his foot caught in the sprinkler. He sustained a deep gash in his knee and was taken to a local hospital for treatment.

Mrs. Abbie McCreavy of Pine Inn, spent the week in Oakland and San Francisco with friends and relatives.

Mrs. Elizabeth Curran is leaving this week for Tacoma, Washington. She is making the trip by water.

City Council Forgets Beer,

Starts Study Aqua Pura

Carmel's city council which for sometime has been investigating beer, has now undertaken an inquiry of aqua pura.

Under tentative plans being discussed, members of the council are working on the possibility of the village joining with the other two peninsula cities in forming a water district. Once the district has been formed, bonds could be issued for the purchase of the present water supply system.

For the past five years there has been considerable interest shown by officials of all three cities in the plan that would result in municipal control of the water works. When the depression came along, the matter was tabled and no more attention was devoted to it.

Again, however, the discussion has been revived and indications point to the probability that definite steps might be taken before the year is out in forming the proposed water district.

According to City Attorney Argyll Campbell who has kept in close tab with the situation, bonds over a long period of years could be voted by the district so that the actual taxes would not be high. Campbell believes that if the water company was placed under municipal control, a material cut in rates could be ordered. The present water rates on the Monterey peninsula are among the highest in the state.

"Under corporation control, high water rates must be charged in order to show and return a profit to the share holders," Campbell explains. "If the water company is owned by the three municipalities, the tax payers would benefit from this profit."

It is understood that in Pacific Grove, members of the council there are wholly in favor of municipal control of the water works. In Monterey and in Carmel, the council appears to be divided in the matter.

All action that so far has been taken has been of a tentative nature and it is doubtful whether anything definite will be decided until next year.

Woman Hermit Said To Have Home In Big Sur Section

The ghostly figure of a woman who has disturbed members of the convicts' camp in the Big Sur section has been identified as Melissae, a hermit in the country, who has been residing there for the past ten years.

Free from the clamor of civilization, free from the restraints of city life, the woman lives in a frontier age, hunting her own food, felling trees for her fire wood and raising a small flock of chickens.

Her lone existence in her mountain cabin has been known to gold prospectors and trappers in that section who have guarded her secret for many years. She is said to be friendly with several of the trappers who bring her once a year a car load of supplies, old magazines and books.

Known only as "Melissae," she is a woman of mystery, whose true name and background she had ingeniously concealed. It is rumored, however, that she was formerly a resident of Carmel who suffered a tragic disappointment and took to the mountains to hide her sorrow. In all these ten years, it is said, she has never returned and makes every attempt to keep away from those that in the past have sought her out in her isolated cabin.

Guards at the convict camp in the Big Sur section where they are working on the highway, claim that they have had an occasional glance of the woman, but she has always fled before they could question her.

Mora Commissioned To Make Map For Rodeo

Jo Mora, Carmel artist and sculptor, has turned his pen toward popularizing the California rodeo to be held in Salinas next month.

Mora has been commissioned by the California rodeo directors to design one of his famous caricature maps, based on the present and past activities which contribute to the color and glamor of the Salinas fiesta.

Mora's handiwork has played an important role in previous rodeo history. He designed the striking Jo Mora trophy which goes to the cowboy winning top honors in the local show for three years. It is understood that approximately 5,000 copies of the map will be printed and placed on sale throughout the state.

"Pirates" In Rehearsals For Elaborate Forest Theater Show

With rehearsals under way almost every night, the preliminary polishing touches were being applied this week to the large cast that will take part in the elaborate production of "The Pirates of Penzance" to be presented at the Forest Theater the first week in July.

The operetta, one of the most popular of the group written by Gilbert and Sullivan, will fit in nicely into the Forest Theater atmosphere. Present indications are that the production will be staged in the famous open air theater in years.

Arthur Gunderson, who had directed the presentation of "S. S. Pinafire" will direct the "Pirates" production. A large chorus of singers from all parts of the peninsula are now being trained for the various parts. Gunderson will be assisted in directing by Victor Kearney.

Kathleen Murphy, daughter of M. J. Murphy, and Anna Marie Baer are taking the two leading roles in the production. Others include Jack Gribner, Dr. R. A.

Kocher and Lew Jones. A full list of the cast will be announced later.

PEACE OFFICERS WILL MEET HERE ON TUESDAY

Gentlemen who are criminally inclined are warned to keep away from Carmel next Tuesday night.

The village will be host to some 50 police officers, judges and peace officers who will gather here to attend a session of the recently organized Central Coast counties peace officers association.

The officials will meet at Pine Point where they will be guests at a banquet. Important talks on progress in combatting crime and ways in which officers of various counties can work together are scheduled to be given as part of the program.

Originally scheduled to meet in Carmel this week, the session was postponed until this coming Tuesday because of the sudden death of an official of the association. Members of the association who will come to Carmel will represent Santa Cruz, San Benito and Monterey counties.

FIRE DEPARTMENT GETS CALL ON BRUSH BLAZE

A brush fire at Third and Lincoln, caused by a bonfire, brought out the volunteer fire department Wednesday morning and it was quickly extinguished before there was any damage.

According to Fire Chief Robert Leidig, the bonfire was started without a permit, but no charges were pressed. The fire had been started to burn a small amount of brush and suddenly got out of control.

LOW PRICE CARS VS. CHEAP CARS

We do not build a low-price car: the cost to us of building our car is pretty high.

But we do sell a high quality car at a low price.

Almost every new Ford V-8 car we have built so far this year, has cost more to manufacture than its selling price was. As you buy them at only $490 to $610, we have to depend on increasing volume to make up the difference.

The reason for this is simple: — a manufacturer who gives good value must expect to lose money on the first cars he sells because he cannot charge all his costs to the people who are first to buy.

But with the purchaser it is different — he cannot afford to lose anything on a car. It must give him full value from the first, and keep on giving him full value for years.

Two things make possible our combination of low prices and high cost quality:

1. Volume Production
2. Taking only one profit

First, we set our price at what would be fair to the public on the basis of economies we enjoy in volume production. Then, in order to justify and maintain our low price we must get volume sales.

Thus it comes that a car which is really high-cost to make, is also low-cost to buy.

There is a difference between a cheap car and a low-priced high quality car.

Ford prices are always fixed at a point which makes it profitable for a customer to buy.

Good and lasting business must produce profit to the buyer as well as to the seller. And of the two, the buyer's profit must be, comparatively, the larger one.

It pays us to sell the Ford V-8 because it pays you to buy it.

Henry Ford

Noland Declines To Accept Bid, But Board Orders Quiz

Despite the fact that Harry Noland, Monterey county's "Wonder Boy" district attorney, has refused to explain the charges on which he ousted Argyll Campbell as his deputy, the Carmel city council next Wednesday night will stage its own hearing and investigation.

Noland, invited last month to appear before the city council, notified local city officials that he saw no reason why he should explain any action taken by his office to a municipal body. He said the Carmel council had no right and authority to question him.

But such things as not having the complaining witness present have never bothered the city council. Members of the board will go through with the hearing as scheduled. Campbell, who is also city attorney of Carmel, will appear before the board and relate the charges on which he was ousted as Noland's deputy.

He will put on the stand a number of prominent county residents to show that Noland did not act in good faith when he fired him on the charges that he failed to close down gambling establishments in Monterey.

"I want to prove to the city council," Campbell said this week, "that Noland made these charges as a political move and because he thought he could stain my reputation and character. I only wish that Noland would be present so that he could give his side of the case. The council could then judge accordingly whether or not I did my full duty."

Airplane Service To Start On Peninsula

San Francisco will soon be away from Carmel.

Under plans now definitely outlined, a new airplane service between the Monterey peninsula and various points in California will be established on Saturday, June 24.

The passenger service will be conducted by the Pacific Seaboard Air Lines who have recently purchased the finest air machines available for transportation purposes. As announced previously, four Belanca cabin planes will call daily at Monterey, two northbound and two southbound.

According to E. J. Fortman, official of the airline service, the rates will be approximately the same as charged by the railroad company. It is understood that the trip to San Francisco can be made when the service is started for $4.50.

HENRY COWELL TALKS ON SIAM, CAMBODIA

The sixth of the Henry Cowell evenings of Musics of the World will be Saturday evening, in the Denny-Watrous gallery at 8:30 o'clock. Music of Siam, Cambodia, and Anam will be discussed and copiously illustrated by rare records.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Barboni and their daughter, who are from Visalia, are spending the summer here at the Virginia Davis cottage on Scenic Drive.

Ben Lindsey Plays Racket of Courts In Address Here

Ben Lindsey, the "kid judge" who went the way of all radical thinkers, leveled a new attack on the racket and profiteering of modern courts in a talk at the Denny-Watrous gallery last Friday night.

In his address, which was frequently interrupted by enthusiastic applause, Lindsey painted a pathetic picture of Dame Justice as she sits in judgment in the American court of today.

"Our court system has not only become a farce, but it is now a grand racket," Judge Lindsey charged. "Courts, attorneys, even social workers, are parasites living off the backs of the poor, without lifting a finger to relieve their distress."

From his attack on the present court system, Judge Lindsey went into the more interesting phase of his career—his work with the delinquent boy which was to make him world famous.

His conclusions in juvenile delinquency point to the fact that doctors and psychiatrists, rather than judges and attorneys, are needed to aid children who become criminally inclined.

"Few people understand the reason and the background of why a boy or a girl might go 'bad.' By placing them in reform schools and prisons, we are just breeding more crime," Judge Lindsey pointed out. "An appeal to the sense of pride and loyalty of the average 'bad' boy is indefinitely more effective than resorting to force and fear."

Judge Lindsey completed his talk commenting on domestic difficulties that each new marriage faces. He told of the "Institute of Human Relations," which had been established in Los Angeles in the hope of preventing unhappiness in marriage.

"It has been my experience," Judge Lindsey added, "that a large percentage of the divorces granted would be unnecessary if the parties could be brought together, without publicity, and the sources of trouble sympathetically analyzed."

Judge Lindsey was introduced to the large audience that heard him by Lincoln Steffins. Steffins who has known him from the early days when he was just winning recognition on the Denver bench, traced his career and the part he had played in attempting to help people out.

TWINS ARE BORN IN DENNY-WATROUS GALLERY

By Hal Garrett
Twins were born in the Denny-Watrous Gallery at eight o'clock Monday night. The mother, Mrs. Carmel-Music-Society, is doing nicely. The attending physician, Drs. Hollingsworth and Randol, nicely. The attending physicians, arrived twelve months too early—since both are dentists.

The Penha String Trio came into the world in full cry, and what a voice! Its arrival was preceded only a few minutes by the Penha Piano Quartet which possesses two more hands and feet than its twin brother.

The accouchement marks an important date in Carmel, for these ensembles are destined to make history. How could it be otherwise considering their personnel!

Nathan Abas, playing violin in both bodies, needs no introduction anywhere on the globe where music is known. His weekly broadcasts are listened to by millions. After playing his Sunday afternoon radio concert in San Francisco Mr. Abas, accompanied by Mrs. Abas, dashed for Carmel by auto. By eating their dinner in the car they were able to reach the village in time to attend the rehearsal of the Monterey Peninsula Chamber Orchestra directed by Michel Penha.

For his Carmel appearances Nathan Abas has secured a golden-toned Stradavarius that suits his style of playing marvelously. Monday night the trio produced such rich volume of tone, I had to rub my eyes and look again to believe only three men (not six or eight) were playing.

Members of the Carmel Music Society are chuckling in their sleeves to think of hearing Abas Penha, Lindsey and Weiss in rehearsals for only ten cents, instead of the dollar or dollar and a half such an attraction would cost in New York or San Francisco. And in the rehearsals they hear their favorite numbers over and over again, and are enlightened by the discussion and criticisms of experts.

The refreshingly modern Jirak numbers take on fascinating form, rhythm and piquancy of intervals after a second or third hearing. Michel Penha is not satisfied just to play a great modern work. He explains and repeats until the audience not only understands, but enjoys its beauty. Prepared in rehearsals, Carmel Music Society members will receive a thrill they have never known before, when they attend the public concert.

These four great concert artists rehearsing at eight every Monday night (Music Society members 10 cents, others 40 cents) are building two remarkable ensembles, which I am certain will bring fame and glory to Carmel, their birthplace.

RITSCHER PAINTINGS

NOW AT STANFORD

Thirty-five oil paintings by William Ritschel, A. N. A., noted California painter of Carmel Highlands, are being exhibited in the main gallery of the Stanford Art Gallery at Stanford university.

This collection, which will be shown until the first of July, includes the latest productions from the artist's studio and includes scenes painted in Europe and the South Seas. The marine subjects are largely painted near Carmel bay, where the artist has built a rock walled studio overlooking the sea and hills, which he has painted as a subject. Some of his finest marine subjects, such as "The Monoliths," "Sunlit Shores," "Morning Hours" are included in this exhibition.

Mrs. Dorothy Dobzensky and her daughter returned this week from Oakland where Miss Dobzensky will spend the vacation with her mother.

VOL. XIX No. 24

JUNE 16, 1933

Carmel Music Society Summer Season Now In Full Swing

Although the opening concert of the Carmel Music Society Summer Chamber Music series is not until Tuesday evening, June 27—the world-famous Pro-Arte String Quartet—anyone dropping in on one of the open rehearsals of the Orchestra would know that Penha is back, the "boys" are back the players in the orchestra are sitting up and "minding their p's and q's" the Music Society board members are flying around selling season tickets for the concerts—and the "season" is "on."

And what a season! Seven concerts for six dollars, opening with two programs by the greatest string quartet in the world, the Pro Arte, of Brussels. Messrs. Onnou, Halleux, Prevost and Maas have played together for twenty-five years, and have now reached a perfection of ensemble of craft, and of chamber music playing which has not been heard since the Flonzalays, if then. That such music may be heard in the little village of Carmel for no more than a dollar and a half and as little as fifty cents is at once the triumph, the purpose and accomplishment of the Carmel Music Society.

The other attractions of the series, if not of the fame to be singled out as the "world's greatest" are even more to Carmel than the two overnight visits of the Pro Arte. Again there is cause for marvel. For here is another chamber ensemble, composed of such excellent artists as Michel Penha, Nathan Abas, Abraham Weiss and Ralph Linsley, in Carmel for no less than three months, giving open rehearsals of piano quartets and string trios, followed by three concerts of works which have become old friends of the audience through the open re-are the concerts of the Monterey Peninsula Orchestra, conducted by Penha, and featured by soloist-pianist, child violinist, cellist, etc. Open rehearsals of the orchestra familiarize the youth and the adult with symphonic literature and give the thrill of interest and delight.

Last, but by no means least,

Carmel Man Runs Car Into Lobby of Hotel

George Lundy, 26, Carmel resident, today faced charges of reckless driving following a surprised entrance in his automobile in a Salinas hotel lobby.

Driving along one of the main streets, Lundy lost control of the car and the machine crashed into an auto owned by E. M. Dickman. Lundy's car leaped the curb and tried to force an entrance through the hotel front.

Although Lundy laid the accident to a "slipping clutch," he was cited by Salinas police on a charge of reckless driving.

FLASH

Two three-round boxing fights have been arranged for the Carmel Street Fair according to word received from the Carmel Boxing Commission. Bob Dalton has been matched against Mike O'Leary of Salinas and Frank Dalton is to scrap Bob Smith. Also on the card is to be a rope exhibition by Jack Dalton. Doc Staniford will referee the fights.

WHO IS PATSY? WOULD YOU LIKE TO KNOW?

"Patsy's" has opened in Monterey just north of Franklin street on the west side of Alvarado street. Patsy's is a delightful new restaurant, whose perfection is practically guaranteed by the fact that Harry Williams, formerly chef for the Blue Bird Tea room of Carmel is the "big boss in the back shop."

Williams not only knows his onions, but he knows just about all there is to know about cooking of all kinds, so it is said.

Mrs. R. J. Blake, well known Carmel matron, is the proprietor of Patsy's, and it is further said that Mrs. Blake knows just a little about how a popular priced and managed restaurant should be turned into a meeting place for all. Real draught beer is an added feature at Patsy's.

HARLAN'S SHOP MOVES

Harlan's Millinery, one of Monterey Peninsula's well known hat shops, has moved from its location in the Monterey Hotel lobby to a more up to the minute location on Webster street, "kitty-corner" from the Monterey hospital, and opposite the new Monterey postoffice.

Activities at Harlan's will be renewed next Monday after Mrs. Harlan returns from San Francisco, where she has spent the past few days in the selection of new merchandise and new equipment for the custom making of hats.

Sister Benvenuta Kuster's Offering This Week End

"Sister Benvenuta" will be on Friday night and Saturday night at the Community Playhouse, the San Francisco Civic Repertory Guild enacting this delicate and lovely miracle under Edward Kuster's direction. The production made a profound impression on San Francisco's playgoers and press critics and according to reports is a finer piece of work than the original production. Under the title of "The Nursery Maid of Heaven," at the Theatre of the Golden Bough eight years ago.

An interesting item is that Roberta Leitch, former Carmelite, whose beautiful soprano is now heard by millions over the radio network, will not only sing, as she did in the earlier production, the songs incidental to the play, but will be heard in several added numbers, including Schumann's "The Ring," and Strickland's "At Eve I Heard a Flute."

The Civic Repertory Guild, organized in San Francisco and working under Kuster's stage direction, gave a good account of itself this spring, both in "Sister Benvenuta" and in "Beggars on Horseback," which may be seen here later. The Guild comprises more than a hundred workers in all departments of the theatre, with an advisory board headed by Albert Bender, the well-known patron of art and music. Other names familiar to Carmelites are those of Redfern Mason, Alfred Hertz, Gaetano Merola, Mrs. Sigmund Stern, Noel Sullivan, Mrs. Garrett McEnerney, Mrs. Duncan McDuffie, Mrs. M. C. Sloss and Dr. Robert Sproul, president of the University of California.

Augmenting and cooperating with the San Francisco cast in the group work of "Sister Benvenuta" will be the following local players: Alice and Eugenia Barnickol, Ruth, Marion, Edwina and Betty Pinkham, Geraldine Thiemmes, Joyce Whitcomb, Millicent Sears and Gabrielle Kuster. Understudying for Marie Reeds Walker, Wendy Prince will enact the role of Sister Grimana.

Sunday night, Dick Thompson entertained several friends at a party at his home in the Monterey Peninsula Country Club. Among those present were Jean Leidig, Eleanor Watson, Sue Brownell, Betty Hyde, Barbara Joyce, Jane Hopper, Janet Martin, Ray Draper, Ted Watson, Bud Todd, John Mather, Dick Thompson, Rex Baker, Paul Hart, Stuart Marble, Wallace Goodenow and Don Thompson.

Sally Fry arrived last Friday from Berkeley. She plans to spend the summer here with her mother, Mrs. Fry.

Don Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Thompson of Monterey Peninsula Country Club, arrived home Sunday from Oregon where he has been attending college.

Peggy and Betty Hughes, daughters of Captain and Mrs. Hughes, formerly of the Presidio of Monterey, left Saturday for the East. They plan to visit their brother, James, at West point on their return trip. They expect to stop at Chicago for the World's Fair and later will take a cottage in Carmel.

The Holman Club enjoyed a delightful weinie roast at Memorial Park, Monterey, Thursday evening of last week. Immediately after closing the group retired to the park where ball games and other games were enjoyed, followed by a weinie roast and a grand old time.

The first round of the Holman club golf tournament at the Pacific Grove Municipal Golf links was played last Sunday with 14 entrants taking part.

Charity Beer Garden Not To Be Opposed By Mayor Catlin

Prominent Carmel and Pebble Beach society women will be able to have their charity beer garden in Carmel after all.

Mayor John Catlin today announced that he would not oppose their plan and would request the council to grant a permit for the holding of the beer garden as part of a street fair on July 1st.

"As long as the event is for charity and the proceeds will be turned over to the Carmel employment commission I am willing to withdraw my objection," Mayor Catlin said. "Personally I am not a 'dry' although I am opposed to selling liquor openly in Carmel. I feel, however that a beer garden operated in the orderly manner that it is planned will not hurt Carmel."

Mayor Catlin disclosed that since last week when stories were published that he would object to the beer garden, he had received more than 50 letters from all parts of the state, protesting and approving his stand.

"I am willing to see the beer garden run in Carmel because I have had the assurance that it will be conducted in an orderly fashion and in the true tradition of the village," Mayor Catlin added.

The beer garden will be conducted by Mrs. Sidney Fish, prominent Carmel valley society leader. She will be assisted by a group of "waitresses" that will include Mrs. S. F. B. Morse, Mrs. Frances McComas, Mrs. Muriel Vanderbilt Phelps, Mrs. Byington Ford and others.

Situated next to Leidig's market, the Quality meat market, under the management of Fred Weber, is ready to fill all orders for meat, fresh fish, and poultry to people who demand that their meat be of the highest quality and at a price that is correct according to national standards.

An added feature to the Quality market is that it is open Sunday mornings and early evenings week days.

It is a treat to buy meats at the Quality Meat Market. It is clean, cool and attractive. Adv.

Those Individualists, the Artists

Movements which aim to unite the various artistic efforts of Carmel under one directing head or committee, are frequent. It seems reasonable to expect that the dramatic organizations, the musical associations and the art combinations would prosper under a single program planned by a responsible body. Dates could be arranged, efforts united, the whole scheme of a season made easier and more profitable for all.

This is a businesslike view of the matter. Because it is businesslike and reasonable, it is impossible. Artistic efforts did not thrive in that atmosphere. Not combination, but competition, is the stimulus for artistic success.

Individualism is the key note of the arts. In every group formed are its dissenters, the rebels who break away to organize on opposing lines. Harmony would be disastrous to advance in thought or method.

A music society that had no opposition; a dramatic organization that satisfied all its members and held them to it; an art association unhampered by revolutionists; these might be businesslike and reasonable, but would not get forward very rapidly. If within any of such organizations there is not an individual with ability enough to attack the management, perhaps wrest command away, that organization will lag behind. The satisfied art club is a dead one.

A strong management, held always alert by an active opposition, promises the best success in artistic endeavor. If there is rivalry outside the organization, then the standard of the product must be raised to offset the competition. Too great satisfaction with its own efforts will make any organization moribund.

History in Carmel has pointed the high-spots as times of strife. The Forest Theatre's greatest seasons were at the time of rivalry between the mother organization and its rebel son, the Western Drama Association. When amateur drama had the Arts and Crafts playhouse inactive competition with the Theatre of the Golden Bough, there were fine productions of frequent occurrence. Never, perhaps, will Carmel have such a summer season of music as that recent one, with the music society in rivalry with the festival association.

No, it isn't good business. True, it doesn't sound logical or reasonable. But these are facts that will have to be faced by anyone who seeks to combine, under one directing head or committee the efforts of the artists of Carmel.

For Proposition No. 1

George S. Gould of Salinas, who has been active in the interest of tax economy in Monterey county, sends information regarding proposition No. 1 on the ballot of June 27th election, the Riley-Stewart tax measure, and urges our support. His claim is that if the measure carries, it will save the taxpayers of Monterey county, $403,489 a year, and cut the tax rate 84 cents on every $100 of assessed valuation.

Gould and his committee of tax economists have given the matter a lot of study, and are disinterested except for the public good. Gould writes, "In my own judgment, this will result in assisting real property to come back to where it should be"—in value, he means. We are not so

Dance

I shall put the band of silence over my lips.

And dance deep inside myself.

Soft snow-feathers rest in my hair.

When the bird is covered with snow

It becomes a mountain.

While I wait in the darkness,

I begin to dance.

—Alice Corbin

In N. Y. Herald Tribune, "Books."

A Summer Dawn

I saw the contour of the Bay, steel blue

Among the pines; where summer once was seen

A glory on the hills now no thing grew

From rock solidity; no wing flashed sheen

From brooding nest; a lonely sea gull flew

A silver shiver in the sky bereft

Of sun; and, winter-gray, a salt breeze blew

But not a thing that summer knew was left

Except the music of the tides, a whiff

Of salt decadent beach-weed, and the smell

Of deep-seas stirred to surf about the cliff;

And then there came the old remembered spell

And all the dreams that I had counted gone

Came back—again it was a summer's dawn.

—Arthur Truman Merrill

Olive Trees

Slipping silver in the wind

Afternoon's a girl!

With her silken tresses pinned

And her skirts awhirl.

Summer on the sunburnt hill

Kissed her cheeks aflame

As a teasing lover will

In a lover's game.

Here is magic if you please!

Ah! the silver sight!

Afternoon and olive trees

Shaken into light.

well informed upon the provisions of the bill as is George Gould, but from what we have learned of its measures, we agree with him.

Certainly the Riley-Stewart bill is the most logical and comprehensive plan for tax relief that has come to the people in all the time of this depression, and while it may not be satisfactory in every respect, it gives immediate promise of relief in tax rates, and the hope of improved values or realty.

We endorse Proposition No. 1, and urge its adoption.

Streets and Street Fairs

Relief of the unemployed, which is still Carmel's serious problem, will be kept active through the Street Fair, planned for the evening of Saturday, July 1. It should raise enough money to extend the service over the summer months, and it is possible that the state and national programs of relief, with the improved conditions of business generally, will have by then removed the need of local support.

The money raised by various and ingenious methods during the past two years for the employment fund has been of distinct advantage to Carmel, apart from the benefits it has given the needy. Our streets have been permanently bettered, local problems of drainage have been solved, trees in the public streets have been protected and tended, necessary sidewalks have been constructed, and a great deal of work that would either not have been done, or would have required extra taxes or bond issues, has been put behind us. Carmel will come out of the depression much benefited in appearance and comfort by its altruistic efforts to keep the wolf away from some of its doors.

That Artistic Garbage

Let sleeping dogs lie is our advice in the matter of the city garbage. It isn't a thing that bears poking over. Were it even very much more badly handled than it now is, we would expect any change to be for the worse. And in our twenty-three years of living in Carmel, we have never seen the time when there has been less complaint of the handling of its garbage.

Going back into municipal history there will be found in the archives much grief over the problem of gathering and disposing of the household waste. The city fathers have suffered often and deeply over the matter, have made many experiments, and escaped court actions on more than one occasion only by great effort. Once the health of a school was threatened by Carmel's disposal plant, and its immediate removal was demanded at the muzzle of a law suit.

There is more opportunity for trouble in the garbage of Carmel than in any other municipal problem. It has more aches and pains for the city council than a nest of hornets. Changing garbage men should be as carefully considered as would be the chopping down of the pines on Ocean avenue.

JOE E. BROWN HERE SUNDAY AND MONDAY

By J. A. Kunstman

Joe E. Brown will be seen on the screen of the Carmel Theatre Sunday and Monday, June 11 and 12, in his latest screen comedy, "Elmer the Great," which is said to be his most uproariously funny of any picture he has appeared in to date.

"Elmer the Great," written by Ring Lardner and George M. Cohan, was a comedy riot on the stage and is said to be even more hilarious as a screen play, because many of the startling sequences which could only be hinted at before the footlights are actually depicted in the picture. Some of the funniest as well as most intense scenes in the picture occur during the playing of the World Series in a downpour of rain.

The plot concerns a hick town boy who develops into the champion batsman of the league. He is also the champion eater and long-time sleeper. His cock-sureness makes him the butt of innumerable jokes by other members of his team. Joe, as Elmer the Great, becomes involved in a love tangle which eventually lands him in jail, and very nearly loses the World's Series championship for his team. How he extricates himself and finally wins both the game and the girl is one of the most exciting as well as the most laughable incidents in a comedy full of riotous situations and fast action.

There is a strong supporting cast, with Patricia Ellis, the new cast with Patricia Ellis, the new sensation of the screen playing the leading feminine role opposite Joe. Others include Frank McHugh, Claire Dodd, Preston S. Foster and Russell Hopton.

COMMUNITY CHURCH

In the absence of the pastor, the Rev. T. Harold Grimshaw, the Rev. Emaline Harrington will be the preacher at the Community Church next Sunday morning, June 18. Church school as usual at 9:45 a. m.

Mrs. John W. Dickenson has returned to Carmel as a permanent resident after having been gone for over six months.

Mr. H. C. Benedict has returned to Carmel for the summer.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Is the Universe, including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon Sunday June 18 in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The Golden Text will be: "Harken unto me, O Jacob and Israel, my called; I am he; I am the first, I am also the last. Mine hand also hath laid the foundation of the earth and my right hand hath spanned the heavens: when I call unto them they stand up together" (Isa. 48:12, 13). Other Bible citations will include: "Look unto me and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth: for I am God, and there is none else" (Isa. 45:22).

The Lesson-Sermon also will include the following passage from the Christian Science Text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The true theory of the universe, including man, is not in material history but in spiritual development" (p. 547).

State Election of June 27 Has Great Local Interest

At an election on Tuesday, June 27, Carmel, with the rest of the state, will vote for 22 delegates to a convention that will determine California's attitude upon the question of repeal of the XVIII Amendment—either wet or dry candidates. Also, California will vote upon a bill legalizing horse race betting, passed by the last legislature and submitted to the people by referendum.

Briefly, the measure would legalize pari-mutuel horse race betting and set up a "California Horse Racing Board." The board would be composed of three members. Its regulatory and enforcement powers would be comprehensive.

From its 14 per cent share of each pari-mutuel betting pool, and the state would receive approximately $1,000,000 annually. Of this amount, $100,000 would go to the support of the state fair. The remainder would be turned over to county and citrus fruit fairs, agricultural institutions and unemployment relief.

Opposition is based on moral and economic grounds. It is argued the state would be "in partnership with gambling interests and betting losses would be hardship to many homes."

Proposition 1 upon the ballot is the Riley-Stewart Plan for changing the tax system of the state, endorsed by many prominent tax economists and organizations of taxpayers. What the plan does may be summarized as follows:

1. Provides positive relief for the intolerable burden now imposed upon real property by providing that the State shall finance from sources other than property taxation the nearly $38,000,000 now required to be raised for school purposes as a part of the county tax rate on common property.

2. Limits county, city and school district expenditures to an amount not exceeding more than five per cent the amount spent in the previous year, thus assuring that local taxpayers will get full benefit from the transfer of educational expense from the counties to the State.

3. Limits State expenditures for each biennium to an amount not exceeding by more than five per cent the amount spent in the previous two-year period, at the same time limiting the amount of State taxes which can be raised by levies on property to twenty-five per cent of the total state expenditures, thus assuring that common property owners may not be deprived of the tax relief which is the aim of the entire plan.

4. Abandons, effective January 1, 1935, the present separation of sources of State and local revenues by returning utility property to the local tax rolls to be taxed in the same way that other property is taxed, thereby broadening the local tax base by one-sixth, with corresponding tax reduction for the common property owner, and consolidating all taxpayers into a cohesive group whose interests are identical.

5. Assures adequate valuation of utility property by providing for its central assessment by the State Board of Equalization with full apportionment back to the several localities where the property is situated.

6. Authorizes the Legislature to provide for the balancing of the State budget, to raise sufficient funds to enable the State to take over school costs now required to be paid out of county property taxes and to give such further property tax relief as may be feasible by means of any type of taxation not prohibited by the Constitution.

Proposition No. 2 upon the ballot provides for a $20,000,000 State Unemployment Relief Bond issue, the bonds being self-liquidating in that the counties which choose to borrow money from the state will repay loans by permitting the state to withhold payments from the county's share of the gasoline tax in 10 annual installments, beginning in 1937.

Proposition 3 is a measure by which the bond issue that unless California passes it, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation will discontinue Federal relief aid to California counties, amounting to upwards of $15,000,000 a year. An ultimatum has been served by the R. F. C. that unless California acts to relieve its destitute, the Federal government will refuse to do so.
